

Michael Dales

Project Manager at RHA
Ventures

Michael Dales is the Project Manager at RHA Ventures, where he has spent the last seven years managing new venture intake and working with early-stage companies. Growing up in an ag tech business founding family, Michael started his own video and social media production company. While completing his Honours Bachelor of Commerce in Management, he was part of the original founding group of RHA Ventures, learning from another startup adventure.

RHA Ventures focuses on growing the next generation of leading companies. It employs a "Founders for Founders" approach, providing strategic investment, mentoring, and leveraging experience, skills, networks, and domain expertise to increase the probability of success and accelerate growth. During Michael's tenure at RHA Ventures, they have made over 40 investments in early-stage companies, met with hundreds of potential companies, and reviewed over a thousand pitch decks.
